Unique jewelry, yachts, exclusive cars, mansions, couture clothing, travel, furniture, valuable antiques, artwork, shoes and bags of thousands of dollars, and any products or securities services inaccessible to the average citizen, will be in the Luxury Market, Luxury pioneering exhibition in Spain, a meeting point for those who do not care about the cost of things, but for the pleasure of obtaining them.

Thus, the more expensive products, unique and prestigious in the world met from 6 to 9 May with the most exclusive guests in a totally custom enclosure, quiet, without crowds or rush: the Castillo de Peralada (Girona) is a perfect backdrop to showcase the reality of luxury and the highest-level public spending take a pocket for milloncitos met a whim, an incomparable setting for the most exclusive shopping.

And the market is that high quality is your thing, and the more than 45.000 families in Spain with more than $ 5 million (data from Barclays Health, 2007)

that can benefit from improved business environment to promote safe nationally and internationally, as the Luxury Market for all installations of the castle are available to exhibitors, who through their involvement in the trade fair can make any type of meeting with clients in private rooms or spaces with a wide range of services (from meals, business meetings, exhibitions ...).

Luxury Market was created by three partners Catalans, who joined forces to jump-start this event in 2008, first year that the fair was held and where they gathered around 1,800 people with personal invitation, sent by the organizing group or one of the exhibitors. So people can not flock to disturb the peaceful atmosphere of the enclosure, but if for some reason special someone who has no invitation is eager to attend, will have to pay 200 euros to buy a ticket.

This new design fair was held for three days during the week to coincide with the Formula 1 Grand Prix at Montmelo, a perfect situation to attract the most exclusive international audience, you can use the trip to Catalan lands to attend both meetings.

The Luxury Market is emerging as an event of high society, where there will be an attractive program of activities:
